INTERMISSION

John Williams

b. 08 February 1932

John Williams is a legendary figure in film music, celebrated as one of the greatest composers of all time. Born in New York City, his musical journey started with piano lessons which eventually took him to study at the Juilliard School. Though at first he aspired to become a concert pianist, the pivotal moment came in a 2012 interview with NPR when he said, "... I think I'd better be a composer!"

He has created some of the most unforgettable movie music ever written, from Star Wars and Harry Potter to Superman, Jaws, and E.T. His music has become the soundtrack to some of the most famous movies ever made. Outside of film, he's also worked closely with top orchestras like the Boston Pops, New York Philharmonic, and major orchestras worldwide. In addition to movies and concerts, he also wrote themes for NBC news programs and for five Olympic Games.

Beyond his film work, he served as Music Director for the Boston Pops and has received numerous accolades, including 52 Academy Award nominations, making him the second most nominated person after Walt Disney.

Tonight, we celebrate his musical journey and relive some of the most iconic moments in film. Sit back and enjoy the music!

Eunice Tong

As the Resident Conductor of the Jakarta Simfonia Orchestra, Eunice Tong leads a vibrant array of concerts, including the Symphonic Series, Mass and Oratorio Series, Concerto Series, and the beloved Family Concert Series.

Since 2006, she has also served as the Chorus Master of the Jakarta Oratorio Society. In 2022, Eunice made headlines by directing the inaugural G20 Orchestra, uniting musicians from 20 countries for a celebration of cultural exchange. Building on this success, she was chosen to lead a powerful performance featuring 199 Indonesian musicians for the 78th Independence Day at Istana Merdeka, attended by President Joko Widodo.

Recently, Eunice, alongside the Jakarta Simfonia Orchestra and Jakarta Oratorio Society, embarked on a remarkable Symphonic Voyage. Under the baton of Stephen Tong, over 140 musicians performed on international stages, including the Disney Concert Hall and Carnegie Hall, captivating over 12,000 attendees.
